

$9.2 MILLION VERDICT FOR INJURED CONSTRUCTION SITE WORKERS

A Philadelphia Jury awarded two construction workers a combined $9.2 million for injuries they sustained as a result of a construction accident in October, 1996.

Lead counsel, Robert H. Nemeroff and Daniel D. McCaffery said the theory of the case along with strong expert witnesses made the difference in convincing the jury to render a significant Plaintiff's verdict. The simple fact is that each day catastrophic construction site accidents occur and ruin lives. The law firm of Friedman, Schuman, Applebaum, Nemeroff & McCaffery, P.C. successfully litigates construction site accident cases to protect the rights of the injured construction worker. Our satisfied clients include many local and regional construction workers including carpenters, iron workers, brick layers, electricians and other tradesmen injured as a result of unsafe work practices. We strive to be responsive to the needs of our clients, for whom we aggressively render creative, effective and reliable service. The firm's Litigation Department features several talented trial attorneys who have each tried hundreds of cases. Our emphasis is personal injury litigation in Federal, Pennsylvania and New Jersey Courts and Worker's Compensation representation, with a special emphasis in construction site accident litigation.

Construction site accident litigation requires a specialized degree of knowledge which Bob Nemeroff and Dan McCaffery both possess. They are prepared along with their investigators, to respond immediately whenever the need arises. Their willingness to respond immediately is especially valuable at a construction accident site where the conditions on site change day-to-day and minute-to-minute. Any attorney representing an injured construction worker must be prepared to respond immediately to observe, record and assess the conditions which contributed to the accident. You will not find attorneys more responsive than those at Jaffe, Friedman.

A partner in the Litigation Department, Daniel D. McCaffery is well-known to the Philadelphia Building Trades. He has successfully represented local Carpenters, Electricians and Iron Workers. A former Assistant District Attorney, Mr. McCaffery is the son of a union organizer who has vast experience working on numerous construction sites. This type of experience provides invaluable insight into effective representation of the injured construction worker.

If you or any of your co-workers have been injured in a construction site related accident, don't take chances with your future or the future of your family. Contact Bob Nemeroff or Dan McCaffery at Friedman Schuman who have had a proven track record of success in representing injured construction workers.

Legal Disclaimer

The information provided in this article by Friedman, Schuman, Applebaum, Nemeroff & McCaffery, P.C. is not, nor is it intended to be, legal advice. It is being offered as a general information service to the public. You should consult an attorney for individual advice regarding your own particular situation.